

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Military Employment Skills Program

This course provides a refresher in basic employment skills. Core topics include written, oral, non-verbal, contextual and active listening communication and mathematic skills such as time management, abstract thinking, data analysis and forecasting. The purpose is to create career opportunity advancement and a pathway to reaching employment goals.

The learning tools used in the program include a self-assessment of knowledge on the first day of class using the TABE assessment system and a post-assessment on the final day of class. The classroom environment encourages participants to interact in an active learning experience that is relaxed with no pressure to pass. The only expectations is to participate in the learning experience. The program instructors are here to help guide, support and provide learning opportunities.
